

Overseas Equity Portfolio

Objective

Seeks to invest in equity securities of non-U.S. companies in both mature and emerging economies around the globe.

About the Portfolio¹

The Portfolio invests in a diversified range of stocks outside of the U.S. Investments will be made in stocks of companies which have determinable value, but which are unpopular at the moment — “undervalued” stocks. By choosing stocks that are selling at a discount to the firm’s estimates of their intrinsic business value, the firm seeks to establish a margin of safety and an opportunity for competitive performance.

Brandes focuses on stocks that meet strict value criteria: a large enough price-to-value discrepancy must exist to provide a margin of safety and an opportunity for appreciation. In addition, the companies generally must have a strong balance sheet and strong cash flow. Weightings to countries are a by-product of the bottom-up stock selection process, not a top-down “allocation,” based on an economic outlook or strategy.

The Portfolio is diversified among many different countries and industries and no one stock investment may exceed 5% of the total value of the Portfolio (at time of purchase).

Special Considerations

Investors in the Portfolio should be able to withstand short-term fluctuations in the equity markets in return for potentially higher returns over the long term. The value of the Portfolio changes every day and can be affected by changes in interest rates, general market conditions and other political, social and economic developments, as well as specific matters relating to the companies in whose securities the Portfolio invests. Investors should be aware that investing in securities of foreign companies involves considerations and potential risks not typically associated with investments in domestic corporations. Investments in the Portfolio could be subject to risks associated with changes in currency values, economic, political and social conditions, the regulatory environment of the countries in which the Portfolio invests, as well as the difficulties of receiving current and accurate information. These risks are greater for investments in emerging market issuers than for issuers in more developed countries. It is important to note that an investment in the Portfolio is only one component of a balanced investment plan.

Net returns shown reflect the quarterly deduction from gross returns of fees paid to Wilmington Trust Fiduciary Services Company on equity and balanced Portfolios by all Wilmington Trust Fiduciary Services Company clients during the applicable period. Fees charged to any particular account may vary and an account may have paid more or less than the amount used to reduce the gross returns, therefore, this representation of performance is not intended to reflect the actual performance an account would have experienced. The deduction of fees and the compounding effect of such deductions over time will reduce an account's performance on a cumulative basis as will timing and other individual account factors.
